Course status: Elective/professional-applicative (SA)
ECTS: 5.0
Requirements:
Objectives: The goal of studying this course is to introduce students to a new approach to security in which the accent is shifted from territory and institutions to citizens. Also, it is the research of human security development strategies in the contemporary world.
Outcome: Ability to clearly and comprehensively perceive contemporary social and political environment from the perspective of considering individual security.
Contents: Theory The content of the subject promotes a multidisciplinary approach to security, and highlights a number of essential components for people's safety. Through the presentation of various theoretical directions and research, it points to the multidimensionality of the security area. The course involves familiarizing students with definitions of the concept of human security, its various conceptions and operationalizations, its history and numerous dimensions, including in the first place the paradigm of human rights and sustainable development. Practice In the practical part of the course, students have the opportunity to deepen the acquired theoretical knowledge by solving hypothetical tasks in order to overcome situations in which human security is jeopardized.
